GREEN WITH ENVY--Just because four pages of The Press now are being printed on yellow newsprint, does not mean that we are embracing yellow journalism.

In a news story on this page the explanation for the color change is offered. We will not repeat it here.

Suffice to say that, although we appreciate the compliment of being imitated, The Press prefers to be distinctive and to stand alone for easy reference.

In that way, the mistakes we make will be our own. --'nuff said.

CURIOUSITY is a trait that newspaper people must have. While in others, this trait may be classified as being "nosey" or a "busybody" in our profession it is more or less taken for granted. Most of the time our questions are not resented. Fortunately.

For example, we had no qualms about asking JACK DAWSON, local attorney and president of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, what happened to his hands.

Jack did an excellent job of presiding at the recent C. of C. luncheon at which the West Valley Junior College was honored. The chambers of Los Gatos and Santa Clara joined with the local C. of C. in sponsoring the affair.

Very noticeable was the fact that one of Jack's hands was neatly bandaged. So we asked the busy barrister how come.

He had injured his hand in a basketball game with a group of other youngsters, we were told.

This reminded us that another guy who also has something to do with the law had a similar experience. Police Lt. DON BURR barely had the cast off his broken arm in time to be sworn in as lieutenant. Don had broken his arm in a Little League baseball game.

Admittedly there is little or no connection between the two incidents or accidents.

Except one happened in a basketball game and the other in a baseball game. And, of course, both are sports. The games, we mean.

WE RECEIVED A BIG BOOST from a fellow publisher recently.

It all came about because a friend of ours, Mort Levine, publisher of the Milpitas Post, couldn't unlock the door of his pressroom.

On our day off we had been visiting Mort's newspaper operation in the bustling city of Milpitas.

Mort's newspaper press is located in a different spot than the rest of his operation. When we arrived at the press building, after touring the other part of the plant, our friend Mort couldn't find the right key to the door.

So Mort gave us a

City acts to unblock streets

Rincon and Latimer avenues will not be cut off by the San Tomas Expressway, if the City Council can prevent it.

This was indicated Monday night when the City Council by an unanimous vote directed that action be taken to amend the expressway agreement signed last year by the city. This agreement calls for both Rincon and Latimer avenues to be blocked off.

The action by the Council means that the city's representative on the County Trafficways Committee (Mayor Charles Rose) will initiate action in the committee to modify the agreement. The Council also indicated that the matter would also be presented to the county supervisors, if the committee does not approve the change.

The Council vote came at the special public hearing called for the purpose of obtaining the feelings of residents and business people of the community on the matter. Approximately 40 representatives of the business community and other interested parties crowded into the council chambers Monday and indicated they desired to have the streets opened.

Ted Regas, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce highway committee, acted as spokesman for the group.

For a reason

Press changes color

Somewhat regrettfully and reluctantly, The Campbell Press this week bids adieu to the green coloring that has been a distinctive feature of four pages of the newspaper for several years.

But The Press will still strive to both colorful and distinctive. Instead of green, four pages now will be yellow.

This color change will allow our loyal readers to again easily identify The Press.

Recently a San Jose weekly has been circulating indiscriminately in the Campbell area. In some areas where this particular paper is being distributed, it appears on regular white newsprint. But in Campbell where it is tossed, four pages "coincidentally" have been green.

The Campbell Press goes only to paid subscribers and these subscribers get "preferred" treatment as far as we are concerned.

By a number of irate phone calls to us, we have learned that many of them resent this color confusion and intrusion.

It is largely because of their feelings on the matter that The Press today comes dressed in a different hue. Once again it can be picked out of the crowd.

It has been said that imitation is a compliment. "Green with envy" is a common expression. So even with the extra work and expense that the new color entails, The Press is pleased, in a sort of an off-color way.

Bonds pass

Voters in three school districts in the Campbell area on Tuesday gave their approval to the bond issues on the ballot by the necessary two-thirds majority.

Campbell Union High School had requested approval of $10 million in bonds. Moreland elementary asked for $1,900,000 and Campbell Union (elementary) had a $5 million request on the ballot and $3 million in state aid authorization.

Only a small percentage of the voters went to the polls to cast ballots in the election but they gave their overwhelming approval to the bond proposals.

The passage of the bond issues will not increase the bond redemption tax rate in the districts, as each district is now paying the maximum rate under the state aid formula. All three districts have been able to keep pace with their explosive growth through state financial assistance in the past. Approval of the issues merely continues the program.

Districts must be taxed to 5% of their assessed valuation to qualify for state financial support for the construction of facilities.

The vote for the high school bonds was:

FLAG-RAISING--On Monday morning history was made in Campbell when West Valley Junior College at Campbell Ave. and Winchester Blvd. opened its doors for the first time. More than 2800 first-year students have been registered.

The college will occupy the former Campbell Grammar School facilities under a lease arrangement for the next five years.

Appeals Board rules

Odd Fellows Lodge hall must go by February

The days are numbered for one of the oldest buildings in the downtown business section of Campbell.

The two-story Odd Fellows Lodge structure, on Campbell Ave. at First St., must be removed by next February, the Appeals Board of the city ruled last Thursday.

The decision by the Appeals Board also included the stipulation that meetings must be discontinued in the hall on the second floor within 30 days. Rummage sales can no longer be held on the lower floor at the First St. entrance effective immediately, the board also decreed.

The Appeals Board action came after the trustees of the Morning Light Lodge No. 42, IOOF, had appealed the condemnation move by the city. This officially began on May 18 when W. L. (Bud) Morser, building inspector, notified the trustees by letter that the building had been found unsafe and must either be brought up to code or removed within 90 days from that date.

The building, one of the community's landmarks, had been constructed shortly after the turn of the century. Over the years it has been used by many lodges and organizations. For a number of years the street floor fronting on Campbell Ave. has been occupied by Dave Ribble's Campbell Stationery.

Prior to The Campbell Press moving into its own building in 1950, the lower floor had also been occupied by this

NO MORE RUMMAGE SALES HERE--The City's Appeals Board has ruled that the Odd Fellows Hall must be torn down by next February. No longer can the lobby which opens onto First St. (above) be used for rummage sales. Meeting on the second floor will be banned after 30 days.

City Council wants college

An all-night affair--almost

Present and future shopping centers intertwined with zone changes combined with other matters ranging from the purchase of a street sweeper to the saving the Roosevelt Redwood and youthful speeders made Monday night's City Council meeting one of the longest on record. It was 1 a.m. before the Council was able to adjourn.

During the marathon session, the Council--

APPROVED (by a split vote) a zoning change from R-1 to P-D (planned development) on property at Hacienda and San Tomas Aquino Road as recommended by the Planning Commission. Councilmen Smeed, McElroy and Doetsch voted to uphold the commission while Councilman Rogers and Mayor Rose dissented.

The request for a zone change had been made by Topaz Builders, Inc. and was opposed by the Turturici family, long-time owners of a market on Hacienda, and by the Smith family, owners of the San Tomas shopping center.

Three attorneys presented various phases of the problems involved. Two claimed the area would be overcommercialized, if the zoning was changed to allow another shopping center. The other claimed it was a good idea.

Emory Delmas said that a $1 million shop-

In sharp contrast to the actions and attitudes of other communities within the West Valley Junior College district, the City Council Monday officially went on record inviting the junior college to make its permanent home in Campbell.

By unanimous vote, the County adopted a resolution that will be forwarded to the governing board of the district and to Dr. Hall, college president. The resolution suggests that the city will cooperate with the college in finding a suitable site for a permanent campus within or adjacent to the city limits.

WVJC opened on Monday in the former Campbell Grammar School facilities at

Words of warning

Now that "back-to-school" time is at its peak, it is well to offer a word of caution about the increased traffic hazards that will result.

According to the Santa Clara County Safety Council, accidents are the leading cause of death to school age youngsters and at 'back-to-school-time' this problem reaches its peak.

"Making the trip to and from school doesn't have to be a dangerous journey for your child," according to the Safety Council, "if your child knows the safest way to and from school and how to travel it safely."

One suggestion that parents should follow is that a school route should be mapped out for the youngster, especially if he is in the first year or is attending a new school. The parents should also insist that this route be traveled consistently.

The Safety Council adds this good advice: "Keep in mind the safest route is not always the shortest".

But even determining the safest way for your child to travel to school will not prevent him from having an accident.

Safe walking rules should be stressed and the youngster should be taught to obey all signs and signals; to cross only at marked crosswalks; to never cross the street until he has looked both ways and knows it is safe: to cross quickly but never run.

These are all good points and we urge parents to instill in their youngsters how important it is to follow these basic rules.

There still will be accidents. But if only one accident is prevented because of parental efforts, the time is well spent.

In addition to the youngsters walking to schools, there will be hundreds who will travel to and from school by bicycles.

Bike riding on well-traveled streets is often hazardous, even if the bike rider obeys all traffic rules and regulations. With the increase in automobile traffic on the streets of our community, bike riding becomes even more of a hazardous occupation.

We join with the police department in urging parents to make a determined effort that their youngsters know the proper way to ride a bike in traffic.

Unfortunately there will be accidents no matter how careful we all are.

But, if some of the danger can be eliminated through proper preparation, it is worth all the effort we can put into it.

Alterations dominate building permits in city during month

Additions and alterations provided the most action on the building permit front in Campbell during August as 10 of the 25 permits issued were that type.

But alterations-additions only accounted for $22,800 of the $231,050 permit total for the month. In August, 1963, there were 24 permits issued for $212,010, a gain this year of $19,040.

The biggest permit was for an 18-unit apartment for $138,910 issued to Valley Glen Development Co., 178 Echo Ave. A permit for the Shell service station at 2006 Winchester (at Campbell Ave.) was for $40,000 and Ira Kirkorian was given a permit for a commercial building for $9,500 at 1720 W. Campbell.

Leslie Jones took out the only permit for a single-family dwelling at 1398 Harriet Ave. The permit was for $7,440.

Three permits for swimming pools were taken out. They went to Ernest Fry, 1019 Lenor Way; Roy A. Poulter, 829 Laura Court; $2500 each and Ronald Wiles, 1631 Manton Court, $2800.

Other permits issued during the month included additions: R. I. Dill, 355 Carlyn Ave., $7,640; M. Burman, 864 McGlincey Lane, $2000; Robert Heeter, 500 D. McGlincey, $200; Eugene Cadden, 1967 Palo Santo, $1,400; Leo Medrano, 158 N. First, $1000; Dennis H. Olson, 1651 La Pradera, $800; William Baka, 1183 Hamilton, $100; Clyde Mitchell, 1080 Mitchell Court, $8440; S. L. Scrivano, 104 S. Hunt Way, $1,220.

Other permits: Thomas D. Robbins, patio cover, 729 Buddlawn Way, $540; Leo J. Bihn, 161 Catalpa, garage, $500; Christian Science, 376 E. Campbell, sign, $150: Hagstrom Property Inc., 1750 S. Bascom, sign, $1200; Gordon Begg, 423 Castro, garage, $1,710; Willie Aaron, 1045 Denver, patio cover, $450.

According to Morser, inspections by the fire and building departments had revealed that the frame structure was in a hazardous condition and that the electrical wiring was especially poor. Fire department officials were also concerned over the holding of rummage sales in the lower floor because of the fire hazards that such sales developed.

Trustees of the lodge had recognized the problems of the building but wanted an extension of the time for its removal. They indicated that tentative plans call for the building of a new lodge hall at the rear of the property. The front part would be used for parking.

After the reminder notice had been sent to the trustees last month that the 90-day time limit would expire on August 20, the trustees asked for a hearing before the Appeals Board in order to gain an extension.

The six-month extension for the removal of the building and closing of the upstairs for meetings after 30 days came as sort of a compromise, as the four-member board was divided as to what action should be taken.

Members of the Appeals Board present Thursday were Robert Walker, Jack Scott, Glen DuBoise and L. E. (Bill) Means.

JUDGES HAVE HEARTS--That is what John Ritter reported recently. John, who left this week for Northwestern University where he will be a freshman this fall, learned this rather obvious point in a relatively hard way. (John, we think, had been somewhat skeptical about it beforehand).

During the summer to earn money for his college year, John had used Joe Anello's 1931 Model A dump truck to haul trash. On one of his trips to the dump, he was cited by a San Jose police officer. The cop listed six minor violations on the citation.

Judge Hardeman of San Jose was most impressed and was extremely sympathetic after he had heard John's story. After all, John was a top debater at Campbell High last year.

The full courtroom as well as the judge enjoyed the explanation offered by the defendant. Their attitude seemed to indicate that Model A's should be treated a little differently than other vehicles, especially when they are being used to help a young fellow through school.

All fines were suspended by the judge. He then wished John luck in his college career.

We have a feeling that John will do all right.

IN A RECENT COLUMN we mentioned the difficulty of reaching us by phone at home unless the caller knew our home address.

We explained that we are not listed in the telephone directory. We returned here after the new directory was distributed.

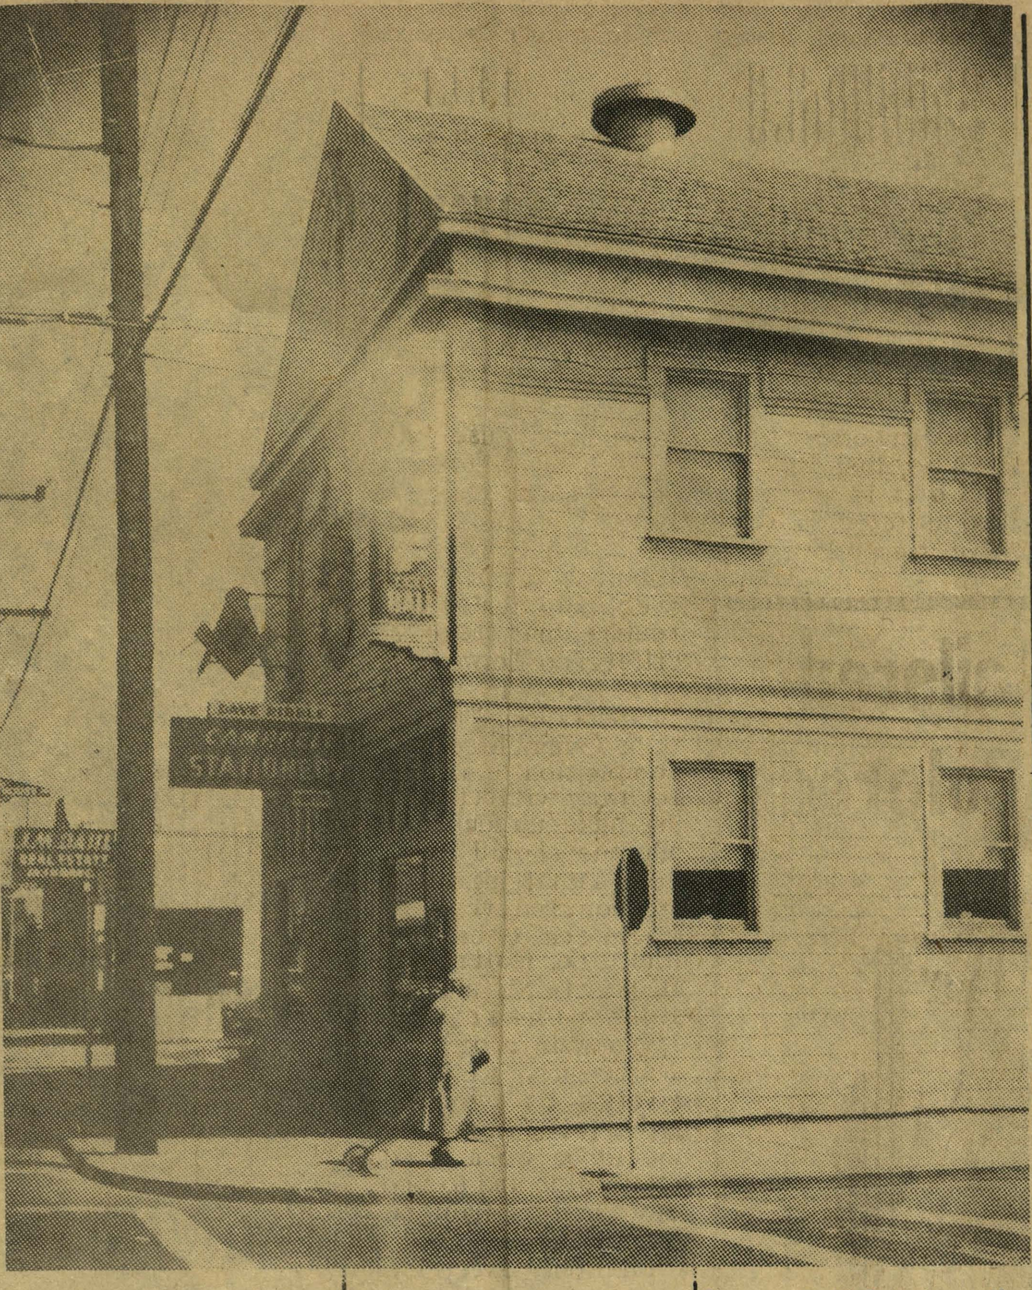
"Information," we assumed, needs to know the address before finding the number. If you don't know the address...you are sort of stuck.

Jack Dempsey, local telephone manager, apparently felt that we were not quite fair about "Information's" intelligence. He had a hunch the gals were sharper than we had given them credit.

He tried it out, without letting "information" know he was telephone brass just checking.

No trouble, she found it right away, Jack has reported. (Of course, if our name had been "Smith" instead of "Vierhus"----)

Anyway we are pleased to acknowledge that apparently we gave out misinformation about "Miss Information."



LANDMARK MUST GO--The Odd Fellows Hall pictured above is one of the oldest buildings in downtown Campbell (built around 1904). It has been condemned and must be torn down by next February, the Appeals Board of the city has ruled.

Services held for Mrs. Clark; druggist's wife

Funeral services were held Saturday for Mrs. Winona E. Clark, 65, wife of the late Campbell druggist, Dan Clark, who operated Clark's Drug Store, at 415 E. Campbell Ave. Mrs. Clark died in a San Jose hospital after a lengthy illness. She resided at 126 N. Second St. and lived in the county for 32 years. She was born in Selma, California, and was a member of the PEO in Campbell and the Campbell Business and Professional Woman's Club.

Her husband, who died in 1948, operated the drug store. A son, Dr. Dan Clark, of Los Gatos, is a radiologist. She also was the mother of Kent Clark, Seattle, Washington; sister of Kent Lebis and Mrs. Jacque Neilson, both of Selma, and daughter of Mrs. Adah Lebis of Campbell.

Services were held at the chapel of the John E. Dowdle Mortuary. Inurnment followed in Oak Hill Cemetery.

HOW TO START A REFRIGERANT BUSINESS: FIND A NEED. FILL IT.

In the highly competitive refrigerant gas replacement market (which already was being served by four well-established suppliers), we found a long-overlooked need: the need to lighten the load of the industry's thousands of refrigeration servicemen.

These are the men who had to lug heavy steel cylinders with them wherever they went to charge fluorocarbon refrigerants into air-conditioning or refrigeration systems. Often, they had to climb up onto rooftops, or down into crowded basements.

Then, in April of 1963, our newly-formed KAISER CHEMICALS Division filled this need for easier handling by introducing its refrigerants in cylinders made of tough, lightweight aluminum. These cylinders, of various capacities, are 33 to 46 per cent lighter than their opposite numbers in steel. And they won immediate acceptance among wholesalers and contractors, because they simplify handling and moving, and lighten the load for every customer!

Find a need. Fill it.

KAISER CHEMICALS Division pursues this policy to improve products and services for all of the chemicals markets it serves...with propellants for aerosols, aluminas for ceramics and desiccants, and—soon—isocyanates for urethane foams.

And by following this policy to serve all our customers, Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corporation is contributing more useful innovations—and giving more customers better service—every day.

THAT FEMININE TOUCH

By

Dolores Keywood

"Good grooming" is a phrase that is used often but is not practiced as often.

I've heard women boast because they don't ever go to the beauty salon and never wear nail polish. They claim they prefer the "natural look." However, they don't stop to realize that there is a difference between the "natural look" and the "sloppy look."

If a woman has a good complexion she may get away without wearing make-up foundation but she should always wear something to protect her skin even if it's a light coat of baby oil. And if her features are all perfect, she may still emphasize her eyes with a little eye make-up. Lipstick comes in every imaginable shade and should be worn to add some color and to protect the lips from becoming dry.

The only exceptions are, of course, the young teen or those where religion prohibits the use of cosmetics.

Going to a beauty salon every week is not always necessary but a good hair cut may only be had by a good stylist. If the hair is cut properly, one may even get by without setting, but only a professional hair dresser can cut and shape the hair correctly.

Going without nail polish because you like the natural look is an excuse for laziness. All women know you may apply nail enamel that is perfectly clear with no color at all. Again this protects the nail, encourages their growth and gives a better groomed appearance to the hands.

Grooming tips are easy to come by. All of the fashion magazines contain numerous suggestions, or write to me in care of the Campbell Press and I will answer your questions in my future columns or enclose a self addressed envelope for a faster solution.

Coffee hours launch new hospital auxiliary

A membership drive in the form of a series of coffee hours will be launched by the Auxiliary of the Good Samaritan Hospital at 10 a.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 22, when Mrs. Howard Christopher opens her 1314 El Solyo Avenue home for a coffee hour. The purpose of the "get togethers" is to inform new and prospective members of auxiliary activities. Mrs. William E. Gould 344 W. Latimer Ave. will hostess a coffee hour on Wednesday, Sept. 30, at 10 a.m.

Service chairmen will be present to describe the duties of the various in-hospital services and answer questions. The hospital, located at Bascom and National Avenues, is scheduled to open in the summer of 1965. Training for volunteers will begin in January, 1965.

Women interested in affiliating with the Auxiliary and attending the coffee hours are invited to call Mrs. David Douthit, hospitality chairman, 377-7080 or Mrs. F. Kempton Allen, 377-7836. Additional coffee hours have been planned.

AAUW sponsors art workshop for children

For the seventh consecutive year the Child Study Group section of San Jose Branch of American Association of University Women will conduct an Art Workshop for children three-to-twelve years of age.

Held at the Dr. and Mrs. Gilbert L. Smith barn on Quito Road in Saratoga, the two Saturday sessions will be held on September 19, September 26, October 3, and October 10.

Approximately twenty-five children are enrolled in each of the two-Saturday sessions. Projects undertaken during the sessions will include finger painting, spatter painting, collages done with fabrics, straw, weed, paper, or anything the imaginative child chooses to use; potato printing and clay work. Refreshments and recreation conclude each class.

Campfire Girls need leaders

The annual call for leaders for both Blue Bird and Camp fire girls is being sounded by Mrs. Kay Cook, organization chairman.

As always, leaders must be found so that no girl will be denied membership in groups. Women volunteering do not necessarily have to have daughters in the program. What they need, according to Mrs. Cook, is interest in the Camp Fire goals and a desire to work with girls. Anyone interested may call Mrs. Cook at 378-0766.

ROMANTIC NEWS-- The engagement of Miss Janey Clark to Mark Herschbach has been announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl G. Clark of Campbell.

Engagement revealed

Mr. and Mrs. Earl G. Clark of Campbell have announced the engagement of their daughter, Janey, to Mark Herschbach of San Francisco.

The romantic news was revealed at a luncheon hosted by the bride-elect's mother. Painted and decorated nutshells were presented to each guest. A note attached said "It's all in a nutshell." Inside, the happy news was revealed.

Mark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Herschbach of Santa Cruz, formerly of Campbell. He attended San Jose State College and San Francisco State College and is now employed as a microwave technician by Bell Telephone Company, San Francisco.

Former local teachers tell of Peace Corps experiences as they undergo the

EDITOR'S NOTE:

Many Campbell residents will be interested in news from Mr. and Mrs. G.A. Tindall (Art and Virginia), formerly teachers of Campbell, who have entered the Peace Corps for two years' service.

The Tindalls are corresponding with Mr. and Mrs. Herman Y. Rice, Sr. This is the second letter that The Press has published from the Tindalls. The Rice family feel that there are many of our readers who would enjoy hearing about the Tindall's experiences in the Peace Corps.

August 4, 1964

Hola Amigos!!!

This will be an attempt to fill you in on the P.C. experience to date. Some of you who received a previous letter (badly duplicated) will recognize that there is some duplication, but we know you will not mind.

First a bit about the weather here. We had been warned by some of you who had lived in this area that the summers were somewhat uncomfortable. Well, except for a few days in July, the weather really had been very good with not much rain. Of course, the air-conditioning has helped us spoiled Californians a great deal. Well, the people around here had been predicting that August would see a change, and boy were they right! The last 3 or 4 days have been real bear cats with the temperature up around 100 to 104 with fairly high humidity.

Of course, as those of you who know the middle west realize, the nights do not cool off much. You may be saying, well, the air conditioning will make it possible to sleep. Right; but we no longer have air conditioning because we are now living out in the community with a Spanish-speaking family. Their home is not air conditioned, and it is a matter of passing around two large fans for which we are very grateful. It has been difficult to sleep though because at 5:00 A.M. the temperature in the kitchen of the house is about 80.

We are more fortunate than some of the group, because in addition to experiencing the same lack of air conditioning they are living in much more crowded and sometimes quite uncleanly conditions. The whole idea is to provide an experience which will be not unlike the kind of thing we shall meet in Colombia. All of the group is living with Spanish-speaking families to gain additional experience in this regard. We shall be here for the final 5 weeks of the training.

FINAL WEEKS

Final five weeks!!! Gads, in one respect it seems that we only arrived here day before yesterday, but in another respect it seems that we have been in Kansas City for months, and that California is such a long time ago. When we first arrived the time went much more slowly, of course, than it has since, because of all of the new things that we were exposed to and all of the new experiences we had. The first few days were interesting because we were sleeping on separate floors in the dorm due to a mix-up in the communications.

There were 3 married couples in this situation, and just about the time we were planning the revolution, we were reprieved, and they moved us down to the first floor where we were able to be together. The girls and fellows continue to be separated, of course, and it was humorous in some respects, because the girls for the most part are graduate students now, and they resented very much the fact that they had to meet a deadline as far as getting into the dorm each night. If they didn't meet the deadline, they were locked out. We had many humorous comments about the separation, of course, and Terry sent us a special electronic communication device to help our situation. It was something really special made out of two tin cans and some special kind of string and including detailed instructions for use.

FULL SCHEDULE

The schedule continues to be full. We are now catching the bus at 6:15 in the morning and tootling out to the University for breakfast and out in time for the first of the Spanish instruction at 7:30. This lasts for two hours, and then we take a course of some kind or other (it varies) in what is known as area studies. This may include something of history, economics, American Institutions, Communism, Colombian culture, etc., etc. At 10:30 we have one of our P.E. periods (they are active; Virginia got smacked full in the face yesterday with a very hard kicked soccer ball; no damage). At 11:30 we get ready for lunch. At lunch we are expected to speak Spanish and one of the language instructors is seated at each table to assist. At 1 we have more area studies and at 2 we have another hour of Spanish conversation. At 3 we have technical studies and at this period we usually have something connected with the basic theme of our training which is Community Development. The whole program is geared to training us for this type of work in Colombia. Community Development can take many forms.

It will depend upon the needs of the community to which each team is assigned.

At 4:00 we have either another P.E. period, a final weeks of arduous training for overseas assignments in Kansas City, Missouri

date with the doctor at the hospital for shots, or a discussion group about Community Development. At 5:00 we eat and then to either the 5:45 or 6:45 language laboratory. Following the 6:45 lab at 8:00 P. M. we all pile into the bus for the trip back to the house, arriving there at about 8:30. It's the books for a while depending on the assignments for the next day and then to bed. The days are quite long, but are challenging and interesting, and we are enjoying the whole thing.

Our week ends have been pretty well filled up, too. We are scheduled in classes until 1:00 P. M. on Saturday and then theoretically we are free until Monday A. M., but, funny thing, it has not worked this way. There seems always to be something to be cropping up to occupy the time on Sat. afternoon, evening and on Sundays. We have had special meetings and instructions, work days and special celebrations. The highlights have been an all-day fiesta in the country to celebrate the Colombian Independence Day.

It involved roasting a 200 lb. pig stuffed with arroz con pollo (rice with chicken), Colombian dances (our language section demonstrated the Cumbia), a beauty contest (which Art and another fellow entered, but due to the prejudiced judges didn't win anything, but did make a big hit; turned down three dates in fact), singing and couple dancing and a soccer game. The day was a big success. One other Sunday we spent all day working out on a ranch building the kinds of things we might have to in Colombia, such as latrines, makeshift pumps, irrigation ditches, beds, fire pits, laying out a house, etc. The day was a big success although that was one of the hottest July days, and we really were exposed to some uncomfortable situations.

Two week ends have been spent working with a returned P. C. Volunteer who is an expert in the Laubach reading method. This is something we were both interested in learning about, because it has become so well known around the world. Dr. Frank Laubach, a Methodist Missionary, developed this highly simplified method of teaching illiterate adults to read. The method is now being used in about 150 countries. The knowledge we gained will enable us to qualify as Laubach instructors as soon as we have taught one illiterate person to read, and we shall try to do this as soon as possible when we reach Colombia. We hope it may serve as a good entry into some group or community down there.

HIGHLIGHTS

While we are speaking of highlights, we enjoyed a trip to the Truman Library in Independence and it included an enjoyable visit with Mr. Truman. He came out and spoke to the group, answered questions, and all in all was his well-known sharp, caustic self.

Our Spanish instruction is really very fine. The instructors are all native speakers from one or another of the Spanish-speaking countries, or are Spanish-speaking Americans. All except one of the regular instructors are working on doctorates at the University of Missouri at Colombia, Mo. The degrees will be in the teaching of languages. The exposure to the language, about 5 hours per day plus as much incidental conversation as we can work in, is paying off although at times it seems to come slowly especially for Art. Virginia is, of course, doing very well indeed and long ago was excused from taking the language lab.

One interesting aspect of our attempt to gain additional practice with the language is that we are attending, when the schedule allows, a Mexican Nazarene Church. The pastor is a fine young Mexican fellow who speaks only Spanish, and a very good grade of Spanish, too. It is very interesting to attempt to follow the sermons in Spanish. It was through this Church that we made our contact with the Morales family with whom we are living. They attend that Church regularly. They, by the way, have one daughter living in Kansas, one son in the service in Washington, and two older sons living in Southern California, as well as an 11-year-old still at home.

Last week a rather anxious period came to an end for the group of 72 in training here for P. C. work. This was the mid point in the training, and time for the "selection out" procedure. Representatives were here from Washington, sitting with some of the local staff, and each of the trainees was discussed, evaluated and rated. This took place over a two-day period, and everyone was, of course, rather anxious to appear unconcerned about the whole thing, but there was real tension in the air. The Board finished deliberating and we lost 12 of the group. They were given plane tickets and whisked away to their homes. The group has definitely changed, since some of those who were removed were the more immature ones who were more inclined to pop off, cut up at the wrong time, etc.

Planning Commission approves restaurant

Plans for four apartment buildings, a restaurant, and a shopping center were among the nine "S" approvals granted by the Planning Commission last week. The okay was also given for a warehouse-office, a neon sign and a shopping center addition at the same meeting.

Three zone changes were also approved and one zone variance. The Commission also acted to add the "S" approval condition to the present C-H zoning (Highway commercial) of the city.

In approving the plans for restaurant planned at 2255 Winchester at Catalpa, the Commission attached a number of conditions that must be met by the applicant, Dairy Queen. These included relocating the revolving sign so that the building would cut the reflection and improve the street and parking facilities.

A number of residents on Catalpa Lane expressed concern over the additional traffic that the restaurant would bring to their area and also about the location of the sign.

MARKET

Plans for a shopping center to be located at 629 Hacienda were submitted by A.J. Turturici family who were represented at the meeting by Emory J. Delmas, San Jose attorney. One of the conditions levied was for property to be dedicated for street improvement on both Capri and Hacienda, a standard requirement. Delmas questioned the need for the Capri dedication inasmuch as Capri was only planned for a 60-foot street.

Delmas also suggested that the area might be over-extended in service stations when the Commission was considering the zone-change request of Shell Oil Co. (from R-1 to C-H) on the corner of Winchester and Sunnyoaks. He explained that the Turturici family had one station and planned another.

The Commission unanimously approved the zone change request, however, after discussion had revealed that it was in harmony with the neighborhood.

Delmas also spoke for approval of a zone change request (R-1 to C-1-S) of the Turturici family for a parcel at the rear of 629 Hacienda. This was also approved.

APARTMENTS

Apartments receiving the blessing of the Commission were: Donald E. Nyberg, at 199-217 Hollis Ave; Stanley Mattingly, Inc., at 201 Echo; Valley Ridge Development Co., 171 Hollis Ave. and Rudolph R. Spivey, 206 Echo.

The approval of other zone changes were by unanimous vote except for the request of Donald J. King, 1262 Hamilton, who wanted residential changed to professional.

Commissioner Homer Hyde cast a negative vote on this request. He explained that he felt that Hamilton Ave. would be rezoned in the future but he did not think that P-O (professional) should be placed in the middle of a residential zone.

At the meeting zone change request was also granted William C. Garcia, from R-3-S to P-O, on property located at Kuehnis Drive and Hamilton.

OTHER

Other approvals granted: warehouse and office building at 186 Dillon, submitted by Cipolla Bros., Inc.; neon sign for the Wing Don Market, 1581 W. Campbell; variance from a 10-foot sideyard and six-foot masonry wall at 2391 Winchester required by C-H zoning. The variance was requested by Frank C. Rodriguez' plans for additions to the shopping center at 855 S. San Tomas Aquino Road.

SQUEEZING BY--To accommodate the 2000-plus enrollment at the West Valley Junior College, three portable buildings had to be maneuvered into place through corridors and around corners. Pictured is a tractor pushing a section down a corridor. In the space of only a few months the facilities of Campbell Grammar School have been transformed into a junior college setup.

"Women Voters Week proclaimed

Mayor Charles Rose of Campbell today issued a proclamation naming September 13-19 "Women Voters Week," following similar recognition by President Johnson in honoring the League of Women Voters.

Mrs. Thomas Harrison of San Jose, president of the Central Santa Clara Valley LWV, said that the immediate aim of Women Voters Week is to get more women pledged to vote, but its long-range aim is to encourage all citizens to be interested and active in government.

"Our nation has a poor voting record," she explained, "simply because the eligible voters make no effort to go to the polls. They don't believe their one vote can make a difference. But there are instances in many local and national elections where single votes could have changed results."

Board learns

Not all in Saratoga oppose junior college locating there

All Saratoga residents are not opposed to the West Valley Junior College locating in their area, the junior college district trustees learned at a recent meeting.

Three Saratoga residents, Sam Fernandez, Lloyd Jemison, and Kenneth Denes, informed the board that they believed only a "small minority" opposed location of the college on the Fruitvile site near Saratoga Road.

The attitude of the three was in marked contrast to several other presentations by groups opposed to locating the college in the Saratoga area.

The board also approved the preliminary educational specifications for the liberal arts area of the junior college proposed first campus.

The specifications were drawn up by Mc Connell and Associates, Palo Alto educational consultants, Gordon Aumack, dean F

Gordon Aumack, dean of instruction, told the board that, although the proposals were tentative, they were important to the college staff and architects "as a basis for planning" the ultimate, permanent campus.

It was also pointed out by Dr. Wallace Hall, college president, that approval of the specifications was necessary if the college was to qualify for a $85,000 planning loan from the Federal housing and Finance Agency. The loan is one of several for which the college has applied.

In another recent action, the board authorized the administrative staff to proceed with planning and implementation of a hotel, motel and food services management program as part of the college curriculum. San Francisco City College is the only junior college in the state at the present time that offers such a course.

Trick or Treat for UNICEF

One of the many attractions at the Santa Clara County Fair which opened Monday is the United Nations booth with its many gay costumes, folk music and Trick or Treat Kits for UNICEF at Halloween. Many people who are concerned for children in other parts of the world have made a habit of taking part in the Trick or Treat program at Halloween, thus sharing the fun of their own children with less fortunate ones abroad. Other people make it a habit to pick up their Christmas cards at the United Nations booth at the Fair. For those who would like more information, call Mrs. Alex Horvath, 867-9722.

Mrs. Panelli to entertain AAUW

Mrs. Edward Panelli will be hostess to the Los Gatos-Saratoga Branch of the American Association of Uviversity Women for a "get acquainted" coffee hour for new and prospective members on Wednesday, Sept. 30. The time will be 8 p.m. The Panelli residence is at 18911 Ainsley Place. Saratoga.

Women who are interested may secure more information by telephoning Mrs. John Lundell, the membership chairman, at 252-7260.

Duke Ellington, world famous jazz pianist, will perform at San Jose City College, Thursday night, September 17, in the College Gymnasium. Student body card holders will be admitted free. For further information concerning tickets call CY 8-2181, extension 273.

Former local teachers tell of peace corps

We have another of these selection boards coming up at the end of August, and although the heaviest cutting has been done, we understand, there will undoubtedly be some more. Keep your fingers crossed for us.

If we are successful in making it, it appears that we definitely will be going to Manizales. This is the place we have been planning on for some time, and it will mean that Virginia will be able to utilize her talents to good advantage. She will be working at the University of Caldas in the Home Ec. Department.

Art will not know what he will do until arrival in Colombia. It will depend somewhat on the proficiency in Spanish which he develops. This info about going to Manizales is inserted because even though Virginia had corresponded with the head of the P.C. in Colombia before coming to K.C., and had received his assurance that this would be the assignment, the rep. from Washington seemed very concerned that there had been some foul up, and that no committment should ever have been made. A recent communication from Mr. Sheldon has again restated the assignment, and so it now seems certain.

This week three recently-returned volunteers from Colombia have joined us for the month of August, and they will be acting as informants and consultants on things as they are in Colombia. This should be both valuable and interesting. Oh, yes, one week end we had two social workers from Colombia spent some time with us, and they gave us some good background information about the Colombia customs, social requirements, etc., and were especially helpful to the single fellows and girls regarding the dating, marriage, sex situation in Colombia.

Our health is excellent. The rigors of the schedule plus the P.E. courses have been good for us. Virginia's weight is staying down and she is doing remarkably well considering the great weight loss she was able to achieve. We were concerned about the stamina aspect, but it has not proved any problem. Art is in great shape due to the regular and extensive exercise. He has lost about 11 pounds. We have been given the majority of our 16 shots that we are to receive, including the following: tetanus, typhoid, paratyphoid, small pox, flu, polio, yellow fever, malaria, some lung disease. The typhoid shots were in a series of 3. For Art this has been a bit of a trial, because each of these shots has had a successively more severe effect. The last one laid him low (in bed) for a day and left an arm that was very tender for four days.

In view of the fiasco we had the last time we sent out a duplicated letter, this one is being sent to Terry for retyping and mailing. She has very kindly offered her services as distributing agent for the communications, and in view of the present schedule the assist time-wise is much appreciated. Our address, by the way, will remain the same although we are living with the Morales family: c/o Peace Corps Program, 5030 Cherry Street, U.M.K.C., Kansas City, Missouri.

Our best to you all, and we do hope you are enjoying a wonderful summer. We are!!!
ART and VIRGINIA

Santa Clara County FAIR
SEPT. 14-20

County fair to close on Sunday

There's still lots and lots doin' at the 20th Annual Santa Clara County Fair with four days left before Sunday's closing performance.

The fair's biggest events are yet to come, however, and there's plenty to see and do for both young and old at the fairgrounds on Tully Road in San Jose.

Wednesday brings the opening performance of the County Fair's professional grandstand show, starring Bob Crosby, Frank Gorshin, the Earl Twins, and the Good Time Singers. The free nightly show begins at 8:15 p. m. with matinees at 2:15 p. m. on Saturday and Sunday.

The finals of a county-wide combo competition will be held Wednesday night at 6 on KEEN's Fair Family Frolics Stage, while the same evening will bring the first harness races at 7:15. The races, free to fair-goers, will continue through Sunday.

The tempo quickens Friday with the Kids Day program getting underway at 3:30 p. m., with a full slate of games and races for the youngsters, all admitted free Friday. They will also be after two bikes to be raffled off at 4:30.

All major attractions and shows continue Saturday, with matinees scheduled for most of the shows. The Pacific Coast Open Championship horseshoe pitching tournament gets underway Saturday morning with the top pitchers in the West competing for $500 in prizes. The tourney ends Sunday.

The fair's big day will be Sunday, with a fairtime giant Destruction Derby beginning at 3 p. m. in front of the grandstand. The crowd pleasing event is the only charging show in the fair, with all seats costing $1. 50. Close to 100 cars are expected to take part.

Also on Sunday's schedule are the Worlds Championship Diaper Derby at 1:30 on Summer Stock Playhouse, the state championship baton twirling contest in Fair Family Park at 10 a. m., and many others.

There's close to 100 rides and concessions in the giant carnival section, free shows and exhibits in all areas of the fairgrounds, daily band concerts, the education and interesting industrial show on Panorama Stage in Exposition Hall, and the one hundred and one other events and attractions still underway.

Gates open daily at 10 a.m. and close with a fireworks show at 10:30 p. m.

Helen Andres heads school drive for UF

Mrs. Helen S. Andres, assistant superintendent Campbell Union High School District, has been renamed to head the 1964 United Fund drive among Campbell schools, according to O.S. Sorenson, Campbell UF campaign chairman and manager Hamilton Plaza branch Bank of America.

Mrs. Andres takes over the chairmanship after many years of experience in different phases of United Fund work. She has been a member of the budget committee and residential committee chairman as well as having served previously as schools chairman. Mrs. Andres is currently a member of the United Fund's speakers bureau and has been over the past several years.

Approximately 60 schools in the Campbell area will be contacted, and teachers, principals and other school employees will be asked to contribute to the work of the 65 welfare, youth and health agencies supported by the United Fund.

Currently a member of the Community Council Board, Mrs. Andres is former president of the Visiting Nurses Assn. board, and former member of the Volunteer Bureau, Camp Fire Girls, Eastfield and Campbell Red Cross boards. All of these organizations are United Fund affiliated agencies.

Mrs. Andres is a member of the California Association of School Administrators and lives with her husband, Eugen, at 364 Flamingo Dr., Campbell. They have three children--Vivienne, Eugen III, and Frederick.

Youth injured in wild ride in borrowed sports car

A wild ride in a borrowed Corvette ended in disaster for a young Fort Ord soldier early Monday morning when his vehicle went out of control and disintegrated as it hit a telephone pole on the north side of Campbell Avenue across from Dillon.

Jerry Vannoni, 20, 19181 Kenilworth, San Jose, is in County Hospital with serious injuries, including a brain concussion, a broken leg, a fractured hand, and multiple cuts and bruises.

According to Campbell Police Sgt. Frank Furtaw, the youth was first noticed at 2 a. m. Monday morning spinning his wheels and driving erractically on South Bascom Avenue. The Campbell Police officer said he followed the driver, and when he turned on Campbell Ave. and increased his speed, the officer flashed his lights for him to pull over. Instead, Furtaw stated, the driver increased his speed to approximately 80 mph, lost control and the sports car hit a telephone pole, breaking into two pieces. The motor was wrapped around the pole. The Fire Department and an ambulance were dispatched to remove the youth from the wreckage.

According to police, the youth admitted he was driving with a suspended license. He also stated he did not see the Police flashing lights. Police are investigating. The sports car is owned by Ron Bruno of San Jose.

Rattlesnakes in Campbell

Ray Wiegand, 180 Harrison St., Campbell, was walking near his home Monday afternoon when he stopped to light a cigarette and saw a baby Diamondback rattlesnake stretched out a short distance from him. With the help of a neighbor, they put the snake in a jar. Weigand took it to West Valley Junior College to be used as a science specimen.

Weigand said a full grown rattlesnake was killed in the Harrison Avenue Parking Lot area several months ago. He feels that the weeds and brush should be burned so that youngsters walking home from school would be safe.

New Books

AT THE CAMPBELL LIBRARY

FICTION:

TO SIT ON A HORSE By Albert Morgan

The time of this novel is today. Jack Judson, who once made a thousand theaters rock with laughter, now lives unnoticed and alone in a Los Angeles suburb. He has a very important son at a Hollywood studio, but his son is a little more than ashamed of his father. How the old man tries to get his son to give him a job, and gain the spotlight just one more time , and how he reaches for a little love and understanding makes this an unabashedly sentimental story. It is written with great compassion.

FLOOD By Robert P. Warren

This powerful novel begins with the coming of two men to a small Tennessee town in 1960. Brad Tolliver, long absent native son and successful screen writer and Yasha Jones, famous director and stranger to the region. Their purpose is to create a great film about the town, which will soon vanish. Already, downstream is the massive dam behind which the waters will rise over Fiddlersburg. It is a story of the past and the present masterfully woven together.

NON-FICTION

WHY WE CAN'T WAIT By Martin Luther King

Written from the heart and mind of the "moral leader of America," "Why We can't Wait" is a cogent and compelling justification of the "now" in the Negroes' rally for his still-denied rights. This is a devastating and terribly important book.

THE JOHN F. KENNEDYS By Mark Shaw

Early in November, 1963, the publisher signed a contract with Mark Shaw, a distinguished photographer for a book containing his intimate photographs of President Kennedy, his wife and their children. Mr. Shaw started photographs of the family in 1959. He was more a friend of the family. The pictures are warm and wonderful.

with "Charlie" Gubser

Since the graduated income tax became law we have grown used to thinking in classes or brackets of prosperity. It is common to hear a wealthy person referred to as being "in the ninety percent bracket" almost as if it were a status symbol. But in recent years we have carried the rating practice to the point where sections of our country are now segregated into "brackets of poverty". Sometimes the very jobs of our citizens depend upon where they live and what bracket of poverty the area is in.

I have been strongly protesting the fact that local firms are being discriminated against when they are not allowed to bid on equal terms with firms in "labor surplus" areas. So, when Santa Clara County was recently designated as a "Class D Area of Substantial Unemployment" I hopefully called the Defense Department to tell them of the new status assigned by the Department of Labor. I was told in effect that our "poverty rating" was not bad enough and our eastern competitors would keep their advantage since they were in areas of "Substantial and Persistent Unemployment". I was also told that as small businesses they would have still another advantage.

Poverty rating opens the possibility for misrepresentation and juggling. One firm in the east which does an increasing amount of government business seems to grow but mysteriously stays under the magical number of 499 employees. This entitles it to retain the status of small business which adds to the advantage it gets for being in a "Class A" labor surplus area. As a result the firm continues to pick up contracts its competitors can't even bid on. There are rumors that principals of the same firm actually own another company in Puerto Rico which, for some reason, is considered as a separate business.

Under the Area Redevelopment and the Public Works Acceleration Acts, Federal funds were authorized to fight substantial and persistent unemployment in depressed areas. But somehow, as the General Accounting Office recently exposed, more than $7.4 million in taxpayers' money was distributed to areas like Hawaii County which never did fit the definition of a depressed area. GAO also revealed that $21 million in Accelerated Public Works funds were obligated after some areas were no longer depressed. And then to make matters worse the administrators made claims for improved employment which were exaggerated by 128%!

In the pending bill to help Appalachia more than 355 counties are blanketed into a depressed area to receive special assistance. Sixty-seven of those counties do not now meet the test!

While all of this poverty rating and juggling is going on, it might be well to rate the U.S. Government itself. According to the Treasury, we are spending $2 million more each day than we did under President Kennedy and $50 million more each day than was spent under Eisenhower. The U.S. public debt is now larger than all the debts of all the other nations of the world combined!

SOCIAL SECURITY

Questions and Answers

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE
SOCIAL SECURITY ADMINISTRATION

By Gladstone A. Boquist
Field Representative

Q. -I am 69 and getting Social Security. I also get $75 a month company pension. In addition, I expect to earn $1800 this year in a part-time job, and to receive $1000 in rent from a house that I own. What income do I include on my annual report to Social Security?

A.-Only the $1800 wages in earnings to be reported on your Social Security Annual Report. Remember that this report covers only wages from employment. It does not include pension income, interest on investments, or real estate rentals, even though these items are reported on your income tax return.

Q. -I have a domestic worker who works 8 hours every Saturday and is paid cash wages of $39.00 a quarter. I also give her cash of one dollar weekly for transportation. Am I required to report this domestic worker?

A. -Yes. The $13 in cash you pay her for transportation brings her cash wages up to $50, the minimum amount that must be reported for Social Security.

Q. -My bank has asked for my Social Security number. Why must I have a number if I don't work?

A. -A Social Security number is also needed by persons who have income which is reported to the Internal Revenue Service. It is used by Internal Revenue as a taxpayer identification number.

Q. -My wife died after having worked a few years. Am I eligible for any Social Security benefits?

A. -It is possible that your wife's past earnings may permit a lump sum death payment or monthly benefits depending upon the age and relationship of her survivors. We suggest getting in touch with us without delay because failure to file a timely application can result in the loss of benefits.

Campbell Union High School District rates high nationally

Campbell Union High School District students are sharper than a comparable national average of students, and being sharper, perform better.

That's the conclusion --in somewhat more scholarly language--of Dr. Wade Schroeder, recently appointed director of guidance and research for the district. The test specialist's judgment is on the basis of scores of the Campbell district's eleventh graders, compared with a representative national sampling of eleventh graders.

Four tests were involved, the "Scat", or School and College Ability Test, and three "Step" tests, Sequential Test of Educational Progress in Reading, Mathematics and Writing.

ABILITY

On the ability test, 39 percent of Campbell's students were in the top one-fourth, and only 16 percent in the lower one fourth, as against the national average of 25 percent in each quarter.

Testing higher in ability, the expectation would be that Campbell's eleventh graders would perform better. This they do, scores of the other three tests disclosed. In the top one-fourth of all eleventh graders who took tests in reading, mathematics and writing, Campbell students would be represented by 25 percent of their number if they were average.

Actually, Campbell was represented with considerably more than 25 percent of its students in the upper one-fourth for each test, as follows: reading, 34 percent; mathematics, 31 percent; and writing, 43 percent.

LOWER GROUP

Conversely, there were fewer than 25 percent of the Campbell students in the one-quarter tested who scored lowest. In the lower quartile Campbell students placed as follows: reading, 15 percent; mathematics, 17 percent; and writing, 12 percent. Similarly, Campbell had fewer than 25 percent of its students in the next tc lowest one-quarter, and more than 25 percent of its students in the next to highest one-fourth.

Dr. Schroeder summed it up as follows:

"In general, the results show that Campbell eleventh grade students exceed (i.e., fewer students in the lower quarters and more in the upper quarters) the national sample in all the achievement areas tested as well as in the ability test. In addition, the degree to which ability and achievement exceed the national sample is generally comparable.

"This indicates that Campbell students demonstrated broad skills and knowledge in reading, mathematics and writing at a level consistent with their scholastic aptitude."

ping center was all set for the Turturici property and a representative of the developers unveiled a sketch showing what was planned.

John Chargin, representing the Smiths, illustrated by a map how the present shopping centers were overlapping. He maintained that the area was not ready for any more centers.

Joseph Schumb, Jr., for Topaz, showed plans for a proposed centers for the area and said that the firm was set to go. A number of people in the audience also spoke in favor of the development. Schumb said that the proposed expansion plans of the Turturici family indicated that there was a need for such a development. It was also pointed out that the Turturici's had claimed for many years that they were going to expand their center. But nothing had happened.

APPEAL

REJECTED the appeal of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Howe for relief from the condition attached to a use permit allowing the Howes to conduct a nursery school in a residential zone. Under the use permit granted by the Planning Commission the Howes were forced to dedicate part of their property for street improvement. The Howes had appealed to the Council.

Three councilmen (McElroy, Rose and Smeed) voted to overrule the Commission. It took four-fifths vote to do so and the two negative votes (Rogers, Doetsch) were enough to allow the condition to stand.

REDWOOD

DIRECTED the city engineer to see if it was feasible to save the Roosevelt Redwood at Winchester and Campbell by modification of the intersection design Councilman Rogers, backed by Mayor Rose, said they felt the tree could be saved by allowing the sidewalk to swerve around it.

SWEEPER

DEFERRED for two weeks action on the bids received for a new street sweeper to see if the alternate bid of Elgin company of a demonstrator instead of a new one was as good as claimed. Wayne Co. with a bid of $11,555. 44 was low for a new sweeper compared to $11,648 for a new Elgin. But Elgin representatives maintained that their bid of $11,440 for a demonstrator would save the city money. After a discussion over the bidding ethics involved and the problems that would develop over calling for bids on used vehicles, the Council directed the staff to investigate the demonstrator and report.

SPEEDERS

RECOGNIZED that the residents in the area of the new Westmont High School had a legitimate complaint about traffic conditions brought about by youthful speeders. Their case was presented by Richard Dobson, of Harriet Ave., spokesman for a group of residents present.

The Council directed the staff to check on the conditions and report next meeting, in the meantime take any emergency action necessary, The residents claimed that high school students speeding away from school in their cars were endangering the elementary grade children who were out of school at the same time.

SISTER CITY

APPROVED the suggestion of Councilman McElroy that the city recognize the program of the Campbell fire department in "adopting" the fire department of the city of Madero in Mexico with the possibility that a sister city project in this case could be developed.

Campbell and Winchester which have been leased for five years as temporary quarters. Junior college district officials are presently searching for a suitable site to establish a permanent campus which they hope will be developed by the time the lease expires.

A number of residents of Saratoga have voiced disapproval of a college in their area. They have asked the official bodies of that community to oppose such a move.

The City Council's action Monday was thus in direct opposition to this attitude.

CUT OUT AND SAVE

A few tips on cutting the cost of winter heating bills.

The amount of your winter heating bill depends on how your heat is used—because gas rates have been going down. Here's how to keep your bill down, too.

1. Good insulation pays for itself.
Floor and ceiling insulation lets you heat rooms quickly—and cut heating costs as much as 30%. Good insulation increases the value of your home—and it will probably pay for itself in just a few seasons.

2. Heat circulation requires good ventilation.
Filters in forced-air furnaces need periodic replacement. But if you take the filter out and vacuum it you won't have to put a new one in as often. Keep wall and floor heaters clean of dust and lint to insure an even flow of air.

3. Heat dollars can go up the chimney and out the window.
Open fireplace dampers and big picture windows take away big chunks of your heat. Close the damper when the fireplace isn't in use, and draw the drapes or curtains in cold weather.

4. Weather strip now, be warm later.
Weather stripping around windows and doors plugs heat leaks, keeps out drafts. A door jamb may require a metal strip which can take the constant friction of opening and closing. Loose windows may need thick felt stripping.

5. Control temperatures (and tempers).
Agree to set your thermostat at, say 69°—and leave it there. If Junior says he's cold have him put on a sweater. Frequent changes in room temperature mean a bigger heating bill.

6. A little light on your winter bill.
Cold weather increases your use of gas or electricity for heat. Your winter PG&E bill will also reflect shorter days, longer nights, an increased use of lights and TV, more cooking and new appliances.

Service Bargain
Since 1961 there have been 3 major reductions in PG&E Rates. Today, the typical customer pays less than 30 years ago for the same amount of gas and electricity. Which means PG&E service is a bigger bargain than ever.

A movement to encourage our artists to record the few remaining historical landmarks of Santa Clara County, has been endorsed by the County Planning Director Karl J. Belser. Historical subjects can be mountains, mines, streams, landing, vineyards, orchards, buildings, implements, historic sites, transportation, people, or a combination of any of these.

Any style or medium is acceptable, but the subject matter must indicate time prior to 1900. To be eligible for $1200 in awards each art entry must have a short typewritten history of the subject, and be signed by the artist's legal name and dates. A. Peter Emig, 253-6766, in Cupertino, is director of the exhibit. Further information may be obtained from him...
